Please Note: Archaeological Research Collections (ARC) staff will do the final boxing of collections at the Museum, and the curation fees will be based on the number and size of ARC standard-size containers filled. When estimating the curation fees for a collection, please remember that ARC staff separates artifacts and samples into containers by site, and divides site collections by material type, separating organic from inorganic materials. Organic/perishable items are housed separately from inorganic items, and therefore, may generate additional containers.

The fees quoted above assume that the submitted collections are prepared in accordance with the ARC Procedures Manual for Submission of Collections. Additional fees will be charged if Museum staff must process the collection to current standards. A copy of the "Procedures Manual for Submission of Archaeological Artifact and Records Collections" can be obtained from the Museum's website, <http://www.miaclab.org/assets/files/submission.pdf>, or from the Curator of Archaeological Research Collections at julia.clifton@state.nm.us or 505-476-1268 or 505-476-4444.
